AUSDRILL ANNOUNCES CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER RESIGNATION

Diversified mining services company Ausdrill Limited (ASX:ASL) (“Ausdrill”) wishes to advise that Chief Financial Officer, Theresa Mlikota, has informed the Company she will resign and leave the company within the next three months post-handover.

Ms Mlikota has accepted the role as CFO at ASX-listed construction materials and lime producer, Adelaide Brighton Limited. During the handover period she will work closely with former Barmenco Chief Financial Officer, Peter Bryant, who will be acting CFO while an executive search process takes place, with internal and external candidates to be considered.

Chief Executive Officer, Mark Norwell, said: “Theresa had built a strong and highly capable finance team at Ausdrill and played a leading role in delivering on major business rationalisation initiatives and execution of the recent Barmenco acquisition.

“On behalf of the Board I wish to congratulate Theresa on her appointment and thank her for the significant contribution she has made to the Ausdrill Group over more than three years.

“Theresa has built up a strong team at Ausdrill and I look forward to working closely with her and Peter over the coming months while an executive search process takes place.”

Mr Bryant is currently Ausdrill’s Chief Integration Officer following the Company’s recent acquisition of leading underground miner, Barmenco, where he had served as Chief Financial Officer for five years. Prior to this, he had worked as Chief Financial Officer at ASX-listed Seven West Media and GRD Limited.
